

come and join the WPSA flock

World's Poultry Science Association (WPSA)

The enormous growth in poultry meat and egg production would not have been possible without worldwide efforts of specialists in this field. This has taken the form of research programmes at many universities, institutes and commercial companies in many fields of poultry production. For all these experts who work worldwide for the world's most important and fast-increasing food sources there is an interesting umbrella organization, WPSA.

WPSA is the leading global network for poultry science and technology.

Costs of membership

The costs of membership varies because each branch sets its annual subscription to include membership of the branch as well as the World's Association. In practice the cost varies between US$ 15 and US$30, or their equivalents for individual membership. There is a lower subscription for students. The membership application form can be downloaded from the website (www.wpsa.com).

World's Poultry Science Journal

World's Poultry Science Journal provides authoritative reviews in poultry science and on international forum for the exchange and dissemination of information including research, education and industry organization.

Each quarterly issue includes comprehensive coverage of a broad range of poultry topics.

Other contents of the Journal include summaries in Chinese, French, German, Spanish and Russian, regional reports, book reviews, news items, and a calendar of poultry events around the world including education and training courses. All WPSA members will only have online access to the Journal, unless specifically requested otherwise.

The World's Poultry Science Journal is also available online for institutions and libraries.

How is WPSA organized

WPSA has over 7500 members. Most of them are organized in branches. Groups of branches form federations. There are two federations. Further there are two poultry networks. For more information: www.wpsa.com

Objectives of WPSA

- To gather knowledge in all aspects of poultry science and the poultry industry and to bring this knowledge to the poultry industry, poultry scientists or other people with an interest in poultry.
- To assist all levels in bringing together, worldwide, those with interests in all aspects of poultry science, poultry production and the many diverse ancillary enterprises that are associated with the industry.
- To dedicate itself to the spread of knowledge so that education and training are ranked high amongst the interests of WPSA members.
- To promote poultry husbandry.
